9- Add Institute

The screenshot shows a web application interface for adding a new institute. The background is a photograph of a city street with tall buildings and a river. Overlaid on this is a semi-transparent form with a dark red border. The form has a title bar that says "ENTER DETAILS" in yellow. Below the title bar are four input fields: "Name", "Type", "Location", and "Review". At the bottom of the form is a yellow button with the text "Add".

10- Remove Institute

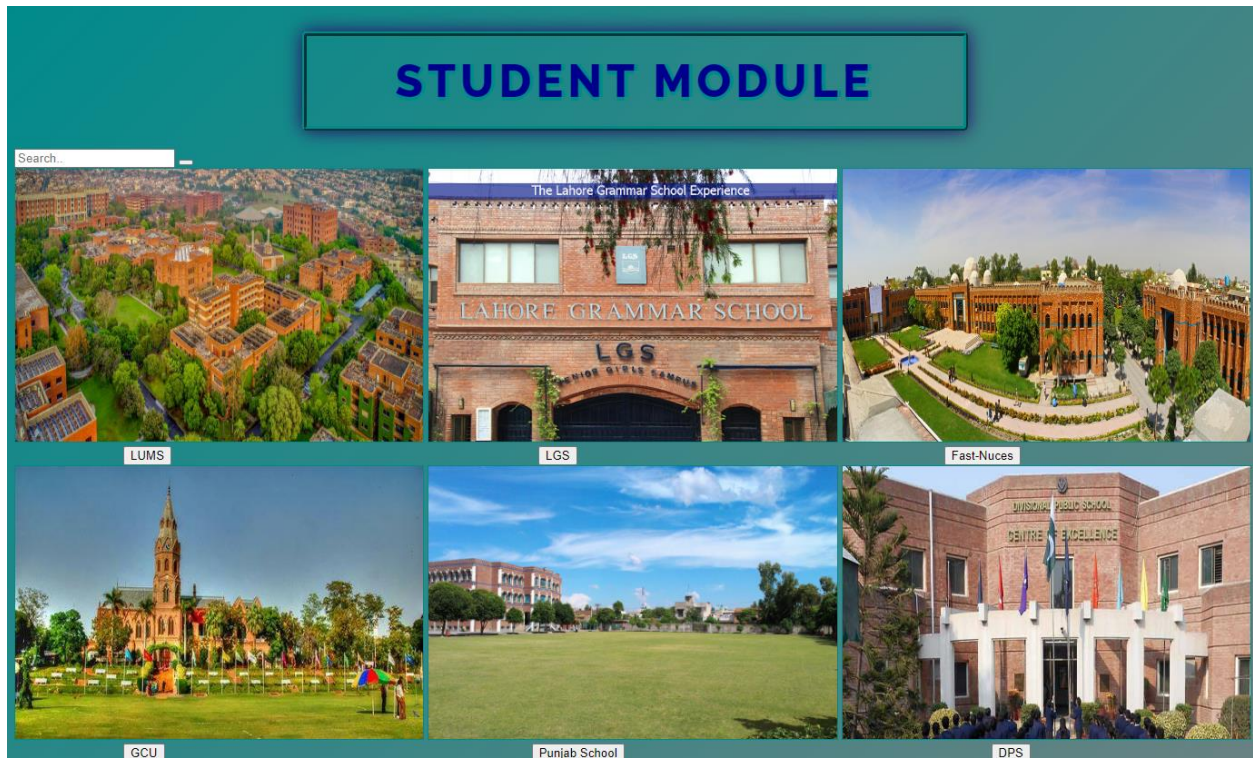

The screenshot shows a web application interface for removing an institute. The background is the same cityscape photograph as in the previous image. Overlaid on this is a semi-transparent form with a dark red border. The form has a title bar that says "ENTER DETAILS" in yellow. Below the title bar is a single input field labeled "Institute Name". At the bottom of the form is a yellow button with the text "Remove".
